PRESS RELEASE 11/03/2009 WPD OFFICER OF THE MONTH / OCTOBER

Officer of the Month recognition goes to Cpl. Charles Strachan for his special event efforts coordinating resources for Trail of Treaters on Halloween night. Cpl. Strachan did a masterful job, deploying CERT and COPS resources as well as Police and other volunteer assets. Traffic was slowed and directed and there were no injuries or property damage for this event. Strachan also has made a special effort to learn and inform his associates about the intricacies of the “185 Police Retirement Program”. Strachan’s leadership in coordinating this new addition to the Police Pension program will likely make the transition easier for all.

Honorable mention goes to Pfc. Mike Bracaglia who did an equally stellar job managing the Homecoming Parade. Despite the repetitive nature of these events, there is a great deal of work involved in coordinating staff and managing assignments. Kudos to both of these Officers for making the job look easy.
