Press Release

For the fourth straight year Class I Index crime dropped in Williston in 2009, according to reports received today from the Florida Department of Law Enforcement. Index crime includes the top 7 most serious crimes. Williston has enjoyed about an 8 % growth in population in the past 3 years. Overall Index crime was down here 16.4% in 2009.

“In light of Levy County’s significant crime increase, Williston’s decrease is remarkable,” said Williston Chief Dan Davis.” Quick response time and officers on duty in the city at all times make the difference.” Williston’s clearance rate also improved from 29 to 43%.”Efficiency in solving crime is only accomplished by smart officers and hard work,” stated Davis.
